Letter from the Editors

Dear Alumni and Friends of Purdue,

The past year has been filled with exciting leaps forward for the Purdue I-O family! We have much to share in this edition of the annual PAGSIP Newsletter with information for Purdue Day of Giving (pg. 6), upcoming SIOP presentations (pg. 15), and so much more. You can also find more information on the Purdue I-O Psychology program website and our social media platforms.

Thank you for your continued support as a member of our Boilermaker family!

Fanyi Zhang and Mia Kendrick, Newsletter Editors

Meet Our New Student

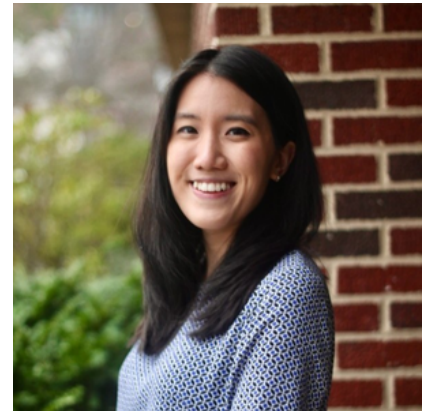

Gloria Liou

Hi everyone! I'm a first-year Ph.D. student in the Tay lab. I'm also a Computer Science faculty member at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. I studied Computer Science and Cognitive Science at Pomona College for undergrad, and worked as a product manager at Google and as a research manager in the Tay lab before my full pivot to academia. My research interests include well-being, relationships, machine learning, and big data. Outside of work/school, I love running and all things performing arts (violin, piano, singing, and dancing!). Looking forward to meeting you all! Email: lioug@purdue.edu.

Student Highlights

Sharon Li started her new job at the Human Resources Research Organization (HumRRO) in Alexandria, VA! She graduated in August 2023 with a Ph.D. in I-O psychology.

Jerod White recently started his position at Hogan Assessment Systems as a Data Science Research Consultant!

Alumni Corner

Dr. Melissa Keith

Assistant Prof. at Bowling Green State University

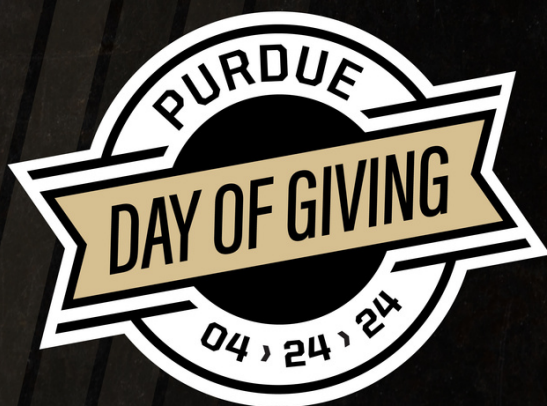

Dr. Melissa Keith graduated from Purdue's IO program in 2019. When asked how her time at Purdue had influenced her career, Melissa reflected on the connections that she had built through the program, saying, "the faculty (current and former) at Purdue continue to be some of my biggest supporters and mentors. I am so thankful for their continued guidance through each stage of my career. My fellow Purdue peers have also been invaluable sources of emotional support, information, and friendship."

Post Purdue, she went on to become an assistant professor at Bowling Green State University in 2019. When asked about some of the milestones she has reached these past 5 years, Melissa took pride in the developments that both her personal and career domains have undergone.

"It is crazy to think that I graduated in 2019... almost 5 years ago! Probably the biggest and most life altering milestones have been the birth of my two kids - Jackson and Madeline. Professionally, I have also had the great joy of hooding my first two graduate students at Bowling Green State University, Lindsey Freier and Ian Hughes. I am now (anxiously) looking forward to going up for tenure in the Fall."

We're so happy to see these successes in Melissa's journey, and we all wishing her the best! Boiler up!
